

How to Use Travel Rewards with Chase: The Ultimate Guide to Maximizing Ultimate Rewards Points

Introduction to Chase Ultimate Rewards

Chase Ultimate Rewards is widely considered one of the most versatile and valuable frequent flyer and travel loyalty currencies available to consumers in the United States and Canada. Whether you are a seasoned points hacker or a casual traveler looking to save on your next vacation, understanding how to use travel rewards with Chase can unlock incredible value, often ranging from 1.25 cents to over 2 cents per point depending on how you redeem them. However, navigating the complexities of transfer partners, booking portals, and card-specific benefits can be daunting for many users. This is where professional assistance becomes invaluable. If you need help maximizing your points or booking your next award flight, you can contact our dedicated team at 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The Chase Ultimate Rewards program is unique because it functions as both a fixed-value currency when booking through the Chase Travel Portal and a transferable currency when moving points to airline and hotel partners. This dual functionality gives cardholders immense flexibility, but it also requires a strategic approach to ensure you are getting the best possible return on your spending. Many cardholders leave significant value on the table by redeeming points for cash back or statement credits instead of using them for travel. To ensure you are making the most of your hard-earned points, consider calling 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations and strategic planning.

In this comprehensive guide, we will explore every facet of the Chase Ultimate Rewards ecosystem. From understanding which credit cards earn the most points to decoding the best transfer partners for international business class flights, we will cover it all. We will also discuss how our company, Book with Flight Miles, can streamline this process for you. For a small service fee, we handle the heavy lifting of finding award space and booking complex itineraries. If you are ready to start planning your next trip but feel overwhelmed by the options, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Whether you hold the Chase Sapphire Preferred, Chase Sapphire Reserve, or one of the many co-branded cards like the United Explorer or Southwest Priority, this guide is designed to help you leverage your benefits fully. We will also touch upon the importance of timing, award availability, and how to avoid common pitfalls that can devalue your points. Remember, expert guidance is just a phone call away. For personalized support tailored to your specific card and travel goals, dial 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The Chase Ultimate Rewards Ecosystem Explained

To truly understand how to use travel rewards with Chase, one must first grasp the structure of the Ultimate Rewards ecosystem. Unlike airline-specific miles that are locked into a single carrier, Chase points are flexible. They can be pooled together from multiple cards, transferred to various partners, or used directly to book travel through Chase's own platform. This flexibility is the program's greatest strength, but it also introduces complexity. If you find the ecosystem confusing, our specialists are ready to help. Call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The value of your Chase points is directly tied to the specific credit card you hold. For example, points earned on the Chase Sapphire Preferred® Card are worth 25% more when redeemed for travel through the Chase Ultimate Rewards portal. Points earned on the Chase Sapphire Reserve® are worth 50% more when redeemed through the same portal. However, points earned on no-annual-fee cards like the Chase Freedom Flex® or Chase Freedom Unlimited® are worth only 1 cent per point unless they are combined with a premium card. Understanding these nuances is critical for maximizing value. If you are unsure about your card's specific benefits, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Another key component of the ecosystem is the ability to transfer points to loyalty programs. Chase has partnerships with some of the world's most prestigious airlines and hotels, including United MileagePlus, Southwest Rapid Rewards, World of Hyatt, and British Airways Executive Club. Transferring points is usually instant, but it is irreversible. Once you transfer points from Chase to an airline, they become airline miles and are subject to that airline's rules and expiration policies. Because of this permanence, it is crucial to confirm award availability before initiating a transfer. If you need help verifying availability before transferring, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The ecosystem also includes the Chase Travel Portal, which functions similarly to online travel agencies like Expedia or Orbitz but allows you to pay with points. When booking through the portal, you retain the ability to earn elite qualifying credits on some airlines, and the booking is treated as a cash ticket by the airline. This can be advantageous for maintaining status, whereas award tickets booked via transfer partners often do not qualify for elite status credits. Deciding between the portal and transfer partners depends on your specific goals. For help weighing these options, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Furthermore, Chase allows household pooling of points. You can combine points from multiple cards within the same household into one account, making it easier to reach redemption thresholds for expensive trips. This feature is particularly useful for families looking to book multiple tickets on the same itinerary. Managing these combined accounts and ensuring the points are allocated correctly can be tricky. Our team at Book with Flight Miles can help manage these logistics for you. To get started with household pooling strategies, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Earning Chase Points: Card Breakdown and Strategies

The foundation of using travel rewards with Chase is earning enough points to redeem for meaningful travel. Chase offers a variety of credit cards, each with its own earning structure. The most popular cards for earning Ultimate Rewards points are the Chase Sapphire Preferred® and Chase Sapphire Reserve®. The Sapphire Preferred typically offers bonus points on travel and dining, while the Reserve offers higher multipliers on travel and dining along with extensive lounge access and travel credits. Choosing the right card is the first step in your rewards journey. If you need help selecting the right card for your spending habits, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

In addition to the premium Sapphire cards, Chase offers the Freedom Flex® and Freedom Unlimited®. These cards do not charge an annual fee and offer bonus categories that rotate quarterly (for the Flex) or fixed bonuses on dining and drugstores (for the Unlimited). While points earned on these cards are initially worth less, they can be combined with a Sapphire card to unlock the higher redemption values. This strategy allows users to earn points on everyday spending without paying an annual fee, then transfer them to a premium account for booking. To learn how to optimize this combination, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Chase also offers co-branded cards with specific airlines and hotels, such as the United Explorer Card, Southwest Priority Card, and World of Hyatt Card. Points earned on these cards are often automatically deposited into the respective loyalty program rather than the Ultimate Rewards pool. However, holding these cards can provide benefits like free checked bags, priority boarding, and anniversary free night certificates. Integrating these co-branded benefits with your Ultimate Rewards points can create a powerful travel strategy. For help integrating co-branded benefits, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Sign-up bonuses are another significant way to earn large chunks of points quickly. Chase frequently offers elevated bonuses for new cardholders who meet a minimum spending requirement within the first few months. These bonuses can range from 60,000 to 100,000 points or more, which is often enough for a round-trip international business class ticket when transferred to partners. Timing your application to coincide with high bonus offers is a key strategy. If you want to know when the best sign-up bonuses are available, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Finally, everyday spending categories matter. Chase often has shopping portals where you can earn extra points per dollar spent at retail partners. Dining programs also allow you to earn bonus points when eating at participating restaurants. Registering for these programs and linking your card ensures you don't miss out on easy points. Maximizing every dollar spent accelerates your ability to book free travel. For help setting up these earning accelerators, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The Chase Travel Portal Explained

The Chase Travel Portal is one of the two primary methods for redeeming Ultimate Rewards points. It functions as an online booking engine where you can search for flights, hotels, car rentals, and activities. When you book through the portal, you are essentially using your points as cash to pay for the travel. The value of your points depends on your card: 1.25 cents per point for Sapphire Preferred and 1.5 cents per point for Sapphire Reserve. This simplicity makes the portal attractive for many users. If you prefer straightforward bookings without transfer complexities, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

One of the major advantages of the Chase Travel Portal is that the bookings are treated as revenue tickets by the airlines. This means you are more likely to earn elite qualifying miles (EQMs) or points toward status compared to traditional award tickets booked through airline partners. Additionally, if you hold the Chase Sapphire Reserve, you receive triple points on travel purchased through the portal, effectively giving you a rebate on your travel spending. This compounding value can be significant for frequent travelers. To calculate the true value of portal bookings, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The portal also offers a wide range of inventory, including low-cost carriers and hotels that may not be available through award charts. This makes it a versatile tool for booking complex itineraries or last-minute trips where award space is scarce. You can also use the "Pay Yourself Back" feature (when available) to redeem points for eligible purchases at a fixed value, though travel redemptions usually offer better value. For help navigating the portal's features, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

However, there are downsides to using the portal. Since you are booking a cash ticket, you are subject to the fare rules of the ticket purchased. This means change fees or cancellation penalties may apply depending on the fare class. Additionally, the redemption rate, while good, may not match the high value achievable through transfer partners for premium cabin international flights. Knowing when to use the portal versus when to transfer points is a key skill. If you are unsure which method yields better value for your trip, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Another consideration is taxes and fees. When booking through the portal, you can choose to pay with points, cash, or a combination of both. You can also use points to cover taxes and fees, which is not always possible with award tickets on certain airlines. This flexibility allows you to preserve cash for other travel expenses. Our team can help you determine the optimal payment mix for your booking. To optimize your point and cash combination, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Transfer Partners Deep Dive: Airlines

Transferring Chase points to airline partners is where the real magic happens for advanced users. Chase has partnerships with over a dozen airline loyalty programs, including United MileagePlus, Southwest Rapid Rewards, British Airways Executive Club, Air France-KLM Flying Blue, and Singapore Airlines KrisFlyer. Each partner has its own award chart, availability, and sweet spots. Navigating these options requires knowledge, which is why many travelers seek professional help. For expert advice on which partner to use, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

United MileagePlus is a popular choice for travelers based in the United States due to United's extensive network. Chase points transfer to United at a 1:1 ratio. United does not charge fuel surcharges on award tickets, making it a cost-effective option for international travel. However, United uses dynamic pricing, meaning award costs can fluctuate. Finding "Saver" award space is key to getting good value. If you need help finding United Saver space, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Southwest Rapid Rewards is another 1:1 transfer partner. Southwest is known for its generous baggage policy and lack of change fees. Points are valued based on the cash price of the ticket, so the value per point varies. This program is excellent for domestic travel within the US. However, Southwest award space can be tight during peak seasons. To secure Southwest awards during holidays, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

British Airways Executive Club uses a distance-based award chart. This can be incredibly valuable for short-haul flights on partner airlines like American Airlines or Alaska Airlines. For example, a short flight within the US on American Airlines might cost significantly fewer miles through British Airways than through American's own program. However, British Airways does pass on fuel surcharges, so long-haul flights on British Airways metal can be expensive in terms of fees. For help calculating surcharges, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Air France-KLM Flying Blue offers monthly promo rewards that can drastically reduce the cost of flights to Europe, Africa, and Asia. Chase points transfer instantly to Flying Blue, allowing you to capitalize on these promotions quickly. This partner is excellent for accessing SkyTeam alliance airlines like Delta and Virgin Atlantic. If you want to leverage Flying Blue promos, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Singapore Airlines KrisFlyer is renowned for its premium cabin products. Transferring Chase points to KrisFlyer can unlock access to the Singapore Suites and Business Class products. However, award space can be competitive, and fuel surcharges may apply. Planning well in advance is crucial for this partner. For help planning premium cabin trips, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Transfer Partners Deep Dive: Hotels

While airlines often get the most attention, Chase hotel partners offer exceptional value, particularly World of Hyatt. Chase points transfer to World of Hyatt at a 1:1 ratio. Hyatt is known for having one of the most generous award charts in the industry, with Category 1 hotels starting at just 5,000 points per night. This makes Chase points incredibly valuable for hotel stays, often exceeding 2 cents per point in value. If you want to maximize hotel redemptions, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

World of Hyatt also offers the ability to combine points and cash for stays, providing flexibility if you are short on points. Additionally, Hyatt Globalist status offers benefits like free breakfast, lounge access, and suite upgrades on award stays. Achieving this status through Chase spending and stays can enhance your travel experience significantly. For help strategizing status runs, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Chase also partners with IHG One Rewards and Marriott Bonvoy, though the transfer ratios and values vary. IHG often has frequent promotions that lower award costs, making it a good option for budget-conscious travelers. Marriott has a vast global footprint, ensuring you can find a property almost anywhere. However, the value per point is generally lower than Hyatt. To compare hotel partner values, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

When booking hotels with points, it is important to check for resort fees. Some hotels charge mandatory resort fees even on award stays, which must be paid in cash. Understanding the total cost of an award stay is essential for budgeting. Our team can help you identify properties with no hidden fees. To avoid unexpected hotel costs, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Another strategy is to use hotel points for unique experiences. Some programs allow you to redeem points for tours, dining, or spa treatments. While flights usually offer the highest value, using points for experiences can make your trip more memorable. For help redeeming points for experiences, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Step-by-Step Booking Guide via Chase Travel Portal

Booking through the Chase Travel Portal is a straightforward process, but doing it correctly ensures you get the best value. First, log in to your Chase account and navigate to the Ultimate Rewards section. Select "Travel" to enter the portal. Ensure you are logged into the account associated with your premium card (Sapphire Preferred or Reserve) to unlock the enhanced point value. If you have trouble accessing the portal, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Next, enter your travel details including destination, dates, and number of passengers. Use the flexible date calendar to find the cheapest options. The portal will display prices in both cash and points. Compare the two to ensure you are getting the expected redemption rate (1.25 or 1.5 cents per point). If the math doesn't add up, double-check your card selection. For help verifying your redemption rate, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Select your flight or hotel and proceed to the checkout page. Here, you can choose to pay with points, cash, or a combination. If you choose points, confirm the total point cost. Review the fare rules regarding cancellations and changes. Once satisfied, complete the booking. You will receive a confirmation email with your itinerary and record locator. If you do not receive this confirmation, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

After booking, you can manage your trip through the portal or directly with the airline/hotel using the record locator. It is advisable to select seats and add any special requests immediately. For portal bookings, you can often add your frequent flyer number to earn miles. If you need help adding your frequent flyer number, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Finally, keep a record of your booking confirmation and receipt. This is important for travel insurance claims or expense reporting. Chase Sapphire Reserve cards come with built-in travel insurance when you book through the portal, so keeping documentation is crucial. For help understanding your insurance coverage, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Step-by-Step Booking Guide via Transfer Partners

Booking via transfer partners involves more steps but can yield higher value. First, you must identify the airline program you want to use. Log in to that airline's website and search for award availability. Do not transfer points until you confirm space is available. Once you find the flight, note the flight details and cost in miles. If you need help searching for award space, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Next, log in to your Chase Ultimate Rewards account. Navigate to the "Transfer Points" section. Select the airline partner you identified. Enter your loyalty program number and the amount of points to transfer. Transfers are usually instant but can take up to 48 hours in rare cases. Confirm the transfer. If you encounter errors during transfer, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Once the points appear in your airline account, log in to the airline's website again. Book the award flight using your miles. You will need to pay any taxes and fees with a credit card. Review the booking details carefully before confirming. Award tickets often have different change policies than cash tickets. For help understanding award ticket rules, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

After booking, verify that the ticket appears in your airline account under "My Trips." Check that your name matches your ID exactly. Add your seat preferences and meal requests if available. Save the confirmation number. If there are discrepancies in your name or flight details, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Finally, consider purchasing travel insurance if the airline does not provide flexible cancellation options. While some premium cards offer insurance, it may not cover award tickets depending on the policy. Our team can advise you on insurance options for award travel. To secure your award booking, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Advanced Strategies for Maximizing Value

To truly master how to use travel rewards with Chase, you need to employ advanced strategies. One such strategy is the "Chase Trifecta," which involves holding the Sapphire Reserve, Freedom Flex, and Freedom Unlimited. This combination allows you to earn bonus points in almost every spending category and pool them all into the Reserve account for maximum redemption value. Setting up this ecosystem requires careful management. For help optimizing your card portfolio, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Another strategy is timing your transfers with promotions. Occasionally, Chase offers transfer bonuses where you get 25% or 30% more miles when transferring to specific partners. Waiting for these bonuses can significantly increase your purchasing power.

However, you must balance this with award availability. If you wait too long, the seat might be gone. To monitor transfer bonuses, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Combining points with cash is another advanced tactic. If you are short on points for a specific redemption, some programs allow you to top up with cash. Alternatively, you can book a cheaper cabin class and use cash to upgrade. This flexibility ensures you can travel even if you don't have the full amount of points. For help structuring partial point bookings, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Leveraging elite status is also crucial. If you have status with an airline, you may get waived fees, better seat selection, or priority waitlisting on award flights. Aligning your Chase transfers with the airline where you hold status can enhance your experience. For help aligning transfers with status, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Finally, consider the opportunity cost of your points. Sometimes using points for a cheap domestic flight is a waste if those points could be used for an international business class ticket later. Always evaluate the cents-per-point value before redeeming. If you are unsure about the value of a redemption, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Common Pitfalls and How to Avoid Them

There are several common mistakes travelers make when using Chase rewards. One major pitfall is transferring points without confirming award space. Once points are transferred, they cannot be moved back to Chase. If the award space disappears during the transfer process, you could be stuck with miles in a program you didn't intend to use. Always verify space before transferring. To avoid this risk, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Another mistake is ignoring taxes and fees. Some award tickets, especially on international partners, can have hundreds of dollars in fuel surcharges. This can negate the value of using points. Always check the total cash cost before booking. Our team can help you estimate these fees accurately. To avoid surprise fees, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Expiration of points is another concern. While Chase Ultimate Rewards points do not expire as long as your account is open, transferred miles often do expire if there is no account activity. Keeping track of expiration dates for each loyalty program is essential. For help managing expiration dates, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Name errors are also common. When booking for others, ensure the name matches their government ID exactly. Even a middle initial discrepancy can cause issues at security. Double-check all passenger details before confirming. If you need help correcting name errors, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Finally, failing to use travel protections is a missed opportunity. Chase cards offer trip cancellation, baggage delay, and rental car insurance. Many users forget to activate or claim these benefits. Understanding your coverage can save you money in emergencies. For help claiming benefits, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

The Value of Professional Assistance: Book with Flight Miles

Navigating the world of Chase Ultimate Rewards can be time-consuming and complex. This is where Book with Flight Miles adds significant value. We specialize in helping travelers in the USA and Canada maximize their points and miles. Our team has extensive experience with Chase transfer partners and booking portals. We handle the research, booking, and troubleshooting so you can focus on enjoying your trip. To experience our service, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Our service fee is transparent and affordable. We charge a flat fee of $25 per person for booking assistance. This is a small price to pay for the peace of mind and potential savings we provide. We can often find award space that users miss on their own, resulting in savings far exceeding our fee. To learn more about our pricing, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

We offer personalized support. Unlike automated chatbots, our specialists are real people who understand the nuances of award travel. We can help with complex multi-city itineraries, stopovers, and open-jaw tickets that are difficult to book online. For complex itinerary planning, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

We also provide ongoing support. If your flight changes or you need to make modifications, we are here to help. Having a dedicated point of contact for your travel needs reduces stress and ensures issues are resolved quickly. For ongoing travel support, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Our goal is to make award travel accessible to everyone. Whether you have a small balance of points or a large stash, we can help you find the best redemption options. We stay updated on the latest program changes and sweet spots. To stay ahead of program changes, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Frequently Asked Questions About Chase Travel Rewards

Q: Do Chase points expire?

A: Chase Ultimate Rewards points do not expire as long as your account is open and in good standing. However, points transferred to partners may expire according to that program's rules. For help managing point expiration, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Q: Can I transfer points to another person?

A: You cannot directly transfer points to another person's Chase account, but you can combine points with household members who have eligible cards. For help with household pooling, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Q: What is the best card for beginners?

A: The Chase Sapphire Preferred® is often recommended for beginners due to its lower annual fee and solid benefits. However, the best card depends on your spending habits. For card recommendations, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Q: Can I use points for first-class flights?

A: Yes, by transferring points to partners like Singapore Airlines or United, you can book first-class flights. Availability is limited, so booking early is key. For first-class award help, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Q: Are there blackout dates?

A: Chase Transfer Partners may have blackout dates depending on the airline. The Chase Travel Portal generally does not have blackout dates if seats are available for cash. For help navigating blackout dates, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Conclusion and Final Recommendations

Using travel rewards with Chase offers a pathway to affordable luxury travel if managed correctly. By understanding the difference between the Travel Portal and Transfer Partners, you can maximize the value of every point. Whether you choose the simplicity of the portal or the high value of transfer partners, the key is planning and verification. If you need help executing your plan, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Remember that the landscape of travel rewards is constantly changing. Airlines adjust award charts, and Chase updates partner lists. Staying informed is crucial to maintaining the value of your points. Our team at Book with Flight Miles stays on top of these changes so you don't have to. For up-to-date advice, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

We encourage you to start small if you are new to points. Book a domestic flight or a hotel stay to get comfortable with the process. As you gain confidence, you can tackle more complex international itineraries. Whatever your goal, we are here to support you. To start your journey, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

In summary, Chase Ultimate Rewards is a powerful tool for travelers in the USA and Canada. With the right strategy and support, you can turn your everyday spending into unforgettable experiences. Don't let your points go to waste. Take action today and book your next adventure. For immediate booking support, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Thank you for reading this guide. We hope it empowers you to use your Chase rewards effectively. Remember, professional help is always available to ensure your travel plans go smoothly. For any final questions or to book your trip, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Summary of Contact Information

Throughout this article, we have highlighted the importance of having reliable support for your travel bookings. Whether you are navigating Chase Ultimate Rewards or looking for alternative booking options, having a direct line to experts is invaluable. For all your travel reservation needs, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Keep this number saved in your contacts for quick access during your travel planning process. Our team is ready to assist you with everything from point transfers to final ticket issuance. For instant access to expert help, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

We are committed to providing high-quality service to clients across North America. Your travel satisfaction is our priority. To experience our dedicated service, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Final Thoughts on Secure Travel Booking

Travel should be a joy, not a source of stress. Ensuring your rewards are used correctly is the first step toward a hassle-free trip. Whether you book through Chase or use our assistance, verification is key. For help ensuring your travel is secure, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

We hope this guide has provided you with the knowledge needed to maximize your Chase rewards. Remember that professional assistance is available if you need it. For expert help, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.

Thank you for choosing to read this guide. We look forward to assisting you with your future travel plans. Safe travels and happy flying. For any final questions, call 1-888-620-1759 for assistance with travel reservations.